MIND/BODY

Violets are dynamic, charismatic, visionary and powerful personalities. Their mission in life is to lead and inspire mankind and guide them into a new age of oneness with abundance and wholeness. Most violets have a driving inner-urge to do something important with their life.

Violets possess both wisdom and powerful intuition. They also have the physical power and the resources necessary to make changes in the lives of others and themselves. Violets are a combination of blue and red qualities, creating a new level of existence and vibration.

Violets are visionary, futuristic, and have high ideals and hopes for the future. They can usually see and recognize the "bigger picture" of any situation and the driving force behind it without being bogged down with details. They can often see the future.

They mainly perceive life through their third eye or inner-vision. Since they have the ability to visualize trends and future events they are often considered to be ahead of their time. Violets don't need to know details, facts, and data to achieve or reach a goal. Their unorthodox inventive ideas and uncanny perceptions often seem unrealistic and impractical to others.

On the other hand violets are theoreticians. It is important to them that their ideas and projects work and make sense. Their vision allows them to see the cause or structure behind a technology, situation, or event. Violets easily find the underlying laws and causes and intuitively know ideal steps to take.

They are motivated to express and live their vision through artistic and innovative creativity. The more they are able to fulfill their inner-vision, the more satisfied and happy they can become. The flexible violet personality experiences life as magic and loves to be in a constant state of transformation and change, adapting quickly and easily.

Since violet personalities are an integration of blue and red qualities, it is important for them to accept and live various aspects of both. Their dynamic aspects blend traits of sensitivity, intuition, caring, unconditional love, and compassion found in a blue with physical activity, power, passion, and strength of a red. Violets often have a strong physical energy with excessive energy. They need to release their physical power through sports or other exercises. Because they also have a strong mind, active relaxation is often a good outlet for releasing pent up energy on all levels.

Violets have a charismatic and magnetic radiance. They possess a highly emotional depth and exert a certain fascination over others. They know how to turn dreams into reality. Their mind is a magical place where wishes come true and where there is a mystical union of subject and object.

Some violets live in the future. They can extend their intuitive minds and sense what the future might hold or what trends might become mainstream. Violets are able to tune into an energy flow and intuitively sense where humanity headed. Not only that, they have the ability to hold and create positive and consciously uplifting visions that can truly assist mankind in its transition to a more enlightened age of peace and self-empowerment.

Violets love music. They feel the power and the vibration of music, preferring energizing, quiet and harmonious melodies. Music that is negative and destructive can irritate and frustrate violet personalities, leaving them feeling uncomfortable. For violets, music is the universal language, which connects humans with each other and with our universe.

Violets are independent and need a lot of space for themselves. They need large homes with lots of open areas. Sometimes a castle is even too small for the expansive energy field of a violet. They need intellectual and emotional space as well as physical. They may become impatient if they find themselves in a small city or community when in fact they wish to express their visions on a worldwide basis.

Violets may seem cold, aloof, or unapproachable from the outside, but inside they are emotional, sensitive, and filled with passion. They are careful with their emotions because they possess the sensitivity and depth of feelings of blue and the passion and energy of red personalities. They are easily hurt and as a result may use a cold exterior as a protective tactic. Giving others the impression of having self-esteem, strength, and confidence does not necessarily mean they honestly feel that way. Violets often have doubts coupled with feelings of insecurity.

The greatest challenge for violets is to trust their intuition and their inner-vision. Their strong tendency toward self-criticism and perfection often leaves them with feelings of guilt and unworthiness. Part of the violet mind may lead them to think they can do virtually anything better, faster, and more efficiently. Even after completing a successful project they may find small mistakes or details, which they weren't able to foresee. This may create feelings of remorse.

Unbalanced violets often ask themselves why they have such a strong feeling to do something important with their lives. Some wonder why they can't be like most other people, without this burning urge to create something special. Sometimes they feel unworthy or not good enough for the task. Successful and famous personalities, people who fulfill their goals and visions, are often confronted with these insecurities along the way.

Out-of-power violets can be arrogant, pompous, and narcissistic. They think they are better than other people. An egotistical violet can develop dictatorial attributes, basking in self adoration and glory. Many out-of-power violets do not trust their visions and ideas. They see too many possibilities easily becoming scattered, bewildered, and confused. A common challenge for out-of-power violets is taking on too many projects at once and then trying to achieve the impossible. Being unrealistic and "too far out there" can cause violets to become overwhelmed, frustrated and powerless.

If violets have not found their vision and are not connected with their intuition, they often use their charismatic powers to achieve material wealth or high social status. They may have a tendency to compensate their missing spiritual connection with power, success and wealth.

Spirituality is essential for violets. They see God in everything that exists, including themselves. Their viewpoint of spirituality is a universal or cosmic consciousness that is directly related to them and within them. Violets understand that God is within all, and we as human beings are co-creators of our own reality. We are powerful divine beings. Fulfilling their destiny means living a spiritual life. They are content living in this magical state of mind where the universe takes care of them and provides them with everything they need.

SOCIAL LIFE

Violets may sometimes appear to be antisocial. They are far more interested in deep meaningful conversations or important projects and ideas than just hanging out with friends and talking about common trivial subjects. Social interactions are boring and not necessary for them unless they find meaningful reasons to engage.

Violets are primarily involved in realizing their own visions and focusing on the manifestation of these ideas. This may sometimes create a distance between themselves and other people, including their own partners and friends. It is important for violets to come out of their "cave" once in a while to have some fun and to enjoy the beauty life has to offer. Their challenge is to not become obsessed with their vision.

Violets have a strong inner-urge to support their community, nation, and the entire planet. They need to be in service in order to bring forth changes and improvements for mankind. Their challenge is patience, essentially to be aware that the change they are trying to bring forth may take a while, inevitably occurring in divine time, not their time.

Violets can inspire and motivate society to seek new ways of creating a harmonious future, such as humans can live without war, planet earth is one living organism, and we are the creators and masters of our own life and destiny. Violets teach humanity that the universe will take care of us no matter what religion, belief, or society we belong to or were born into. If we connect with the universal power, understand the flow of life energy—the "stuff" we are all made of—and if we align ourselves with the universe, we will be supported endlessly and without limits.

RELATIONSHIPS AND INTIMACY

While partnerships are important they may not be the first priority for some violets. They need partners who can understand their visions, travel in similar directions, and provide inspiration.

Violets love sexual excitement and are very passionate. They prefer mystical sex, where union and orgasm are seen as a pathway to enlightenment. A feminine and masculine fusion is where duality ceases to exist. The sexual union represents a cosmic experience in which two beings of energy merge into one.

Violets need sensual excitement and stimulation in their relationships. They are sensitive to their partners, feeling their emotions and knowing their thoughts.

Violets can be both demanding and possessive in a relationship when they focus all their emotional attention on their mates. Because they merge so easily and completely with their partners, they need to be aware of their own individuality, not getting lost in the relationship. Violets have a tendency of being so totally consumed with their partners that they forget to maintain other friendships, even life-long ones. Out of power, they can be smothering.

If a partner does not respond with equal passion and sensual intimacy, challenges with sex can arise and frustration can follow. Therefore, they must create a balanced and satisfying love life. They usually think of their partners as soul mates with a very special purpose for being in their lives.

Violets love the passion and power of reds. You can feel the fire between them. If violets accept and appreciate a green they may be a good match for a successful and prosperous relationship. Violets need to understand that orange personalities also need freedom and independence.

Orange and violets are good partners. They are very different yet support each other as a team, each bringing to the other opposite qualities. Violets with their dedication, drive, and vision are attracted to the easy going and playful attitudes of yellows. Blues love to be around violets and they can be loving and supportive partners.

Because violets want to be the leader and are usually dominant in their relationships, their challenge is to make sure to pay enough attention to their partners. In general, violets need partners who will support their vision and create a stimulating and passionate life with them.

CAREER AND FINANCES

Violets have a need to be creative and express their visionary and innovative ideas. No matter what field of activity they are in they can find new solutions that can work more effectively.

Violets don't need much money for their private use. They enjoy the luxury it provides, perceiving money as representing power and influence. It gives them the ability to manifest and create their dreams and visions. Money gives them the freedom and power to make profound changes on this planet. Violets understand that in our society you need to have money to be influential. Violets are careful with money and a few are considered to be selfish and miserly.

Violets are born leaders. If they use their charismatic leadership abilities for the betterment of mankind and for humanitarian projects rather than egotistical purposes, other people can accept their powerful direct style. It is difficult to resist the charisma and mystical power of a violet.

When in power the universe seems to open all doors supporting violets in a magical and effortless manner. They have an inner-knowledge and wisdom about the natural laws of life. They teach us to trust our inner-flow and to accept that the universe can take care of us each and every moment. If we are connected to our universal life energy life manifests itself with no limits.

Violets are highly intelligent and sensitive, having the ability to look deeply into situations and often seeing the underlying tones. They are always looking for laws or patterns and through their analytical thinking are able to find the cause and effect behind things. As a result of their ability to examine most situations mentally and emotionally, they are powerful and innovative problem solvers.

Violets tend to choose occupations which allow them independence and creative freedom. They believe strongly in a higher purpose in any activity they are involved in. Violets are often drawn to the entertainment industry, media, or any field related to communications, because of their magnetic charisma and personality.

They know how to use existing tools to make valuable and important changes on this planet and to get their message across. Other areas in which violets are often involved include philosophy, religion, ecology, music, literature, art, humanitarian organizations, and futuristic technologies, projects, and developments.

Some violet occupations are, actor, musician, artist, author, lecturer, designer, producer, director, photographer, psychologist, social worker, spiritual teacher, politician, business owner, and inventor.

HEALTH, WELL-BEING AND GROWTH

If violet personalities learn to focus their energy, believe and trust in their vision, and stay grounded in reality they can achieve anything. Living out their visions with passion in their heart can guide them in their journey to fulfill their purpose.

Violets cannot confine their visions. However, it is important for them to concentrate on a few projects at a time. Making clear concise plans and organizing each day can help them reach their goals and manifest their vision.

Violets feel a powerful inner-force, which drives them to fulfill their innermost visions. They can not be happy if they resist this inner-urge to live out their mission and dreams.

The challenge of a violet is to confront any doubt and sense of unworthiness. If they understand their vision and are connected to the universe they can be able to clearly focus on their wonderful and promising future.

It is important for violets to have time for themselves to focus and meditate. This helps them to be aware of their inner-visions.

Deep meditations, which connect them to the universal life energy flow, such as tantric yoga and listening to harmonious energizing music, are important tools for violets to remain centered. Wearing or surrounding themselves with the color violet can help them to become more centered and powerful. In their love life finding a passionate, loving, and supportive partner is essential.

Violets have a tremendous passion for life. If the flow of life energy is intact they can be in power. Their mission is to remember that the universe is made of energy and once they connect to it unlimited abundance is theirs.

When violets find their place in the universe, understand the role they have to play in this great cosmic production, and feel inner-connection with the universal power, they can be supported infinitely. Their success is the outward manifestation of their harmony with the universe. For a violet life is magical, mystical, and always a grand adventure on the road to self-empowerment.
